Desktop licensing and pricing

Desktop licenses are priced by billing country and the number of seats in one order. Payment is a one-time charge.

What the license includes

Document version dated 27.11.2026.

The full edition is free for 30 days from first launch. When the trial or a time-limited license expires, you can still browse, test and extract all supported archives and create ZIP files for free. Other features require a license. A notice with a link to the website appears each time you launch the desktop app. Payment is a one-time charge, with no automatic billing. How to activate a seat.

Choose “Continue in basic mode.” You can protect ZIP archives with a password. Creating 7z or RAR archives, editing archives and using network services require the full edition.

Each seat is granted a nonexclusive license to the supplied version of the Archiver desktop software for the duration of the exclusive right to the software. The edition includes a graphical app and command-line tools for Windows, macOS and Linux. The components in each build depend on the device architecture.

Per-seat rates

Seat within one order	Russia · RUB	Other countries · USD
First seat	RUB 1,990	$29
Seats 2–24	RUB 1,490	$22
Seat 25 onward	RUB 990	$15

Pricing is progressive. Each additional seat is charged at its own tier’s rate. Moving into a new tier does not change the price of earlier seats. The order total is the sum across all tiers.
